The Way God Chooses

I was a shepherd and a dresser of sycamores. - Amos 7:14

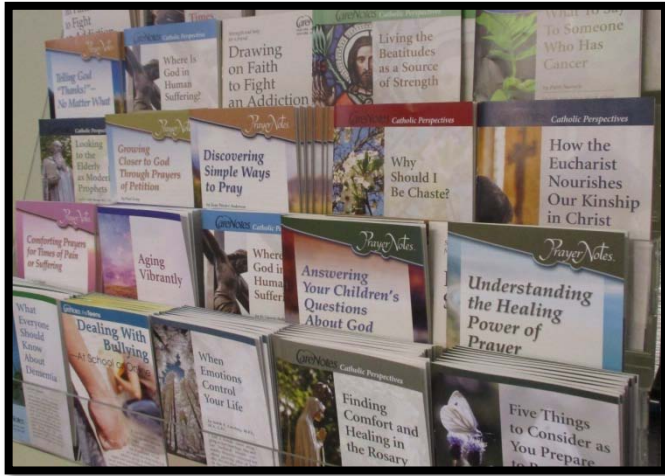

On the ladder of prestigious jobs, being a dresser of sycamores in Amos' time was about as close to the bottom rung as a person could get. The sycamore was the poor person's fig tree. To make the fruit ripen, the dresser had to pierce the fruit encased in husks with a sharp stick, and even after such labor-intensive work, the yield was of small value and little taste.

Amos' mentioning of his occupation seems to undercut any chance he had of recognition or advancement. Who would notice or give weight to the words of a migrant farm worker turned prophet? Yet, once again, we are reminded that God's criterion for choosing is often worlds apart from our own. In this sycamore dresser, God saw the makings of a prophetic vocation.

What are the unlikely or unexpected places in your life where God might also be at work today?

JULY
27 & 28
FRIDAY SATURDAY

St. Patrick Irish Picnic and Homecoming in McEwen, TN is an annual event regularly attended by over 20,000 fun-loving people from across the nation. Originating in 1854, the picnic is known for its famous barbecue pork and the secret sauce that ranks it among the most delectable barbecue ever tasted.

The first Irish Picnic was held to raise funds for a new church bell for St. Patrick Church. Local farmers donated pigs and sheep for the fundraising meals that fed the railroad community of McEwen. Efforts were so successful that generations of church members and other volunteers have turned it into a community project with proceeds being used for the financial support of St. Patrick School.

The Irish Picnic is held the last Friday and Saturday in July. Early visitors may want to feast on the 4,200 chicken halves, which are prepared by lunchtime on Friday. Live music and dancing begins at 6:00 p.m. on Friday and at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday lasting all day.

The Irish picnic is listed in The Guinness Book of World Records (1988) as the world's largest outdoor barbecue. "Cead Mile Failte" or "One Hundred Thousand Welcomes" is an old Irish greeting and the Irish Picnic theme. And "welcome" is exactly what visitors will feel when they come for the food, music, dancing, games & homespun fun at the Irish Picnic and Homecoming.
